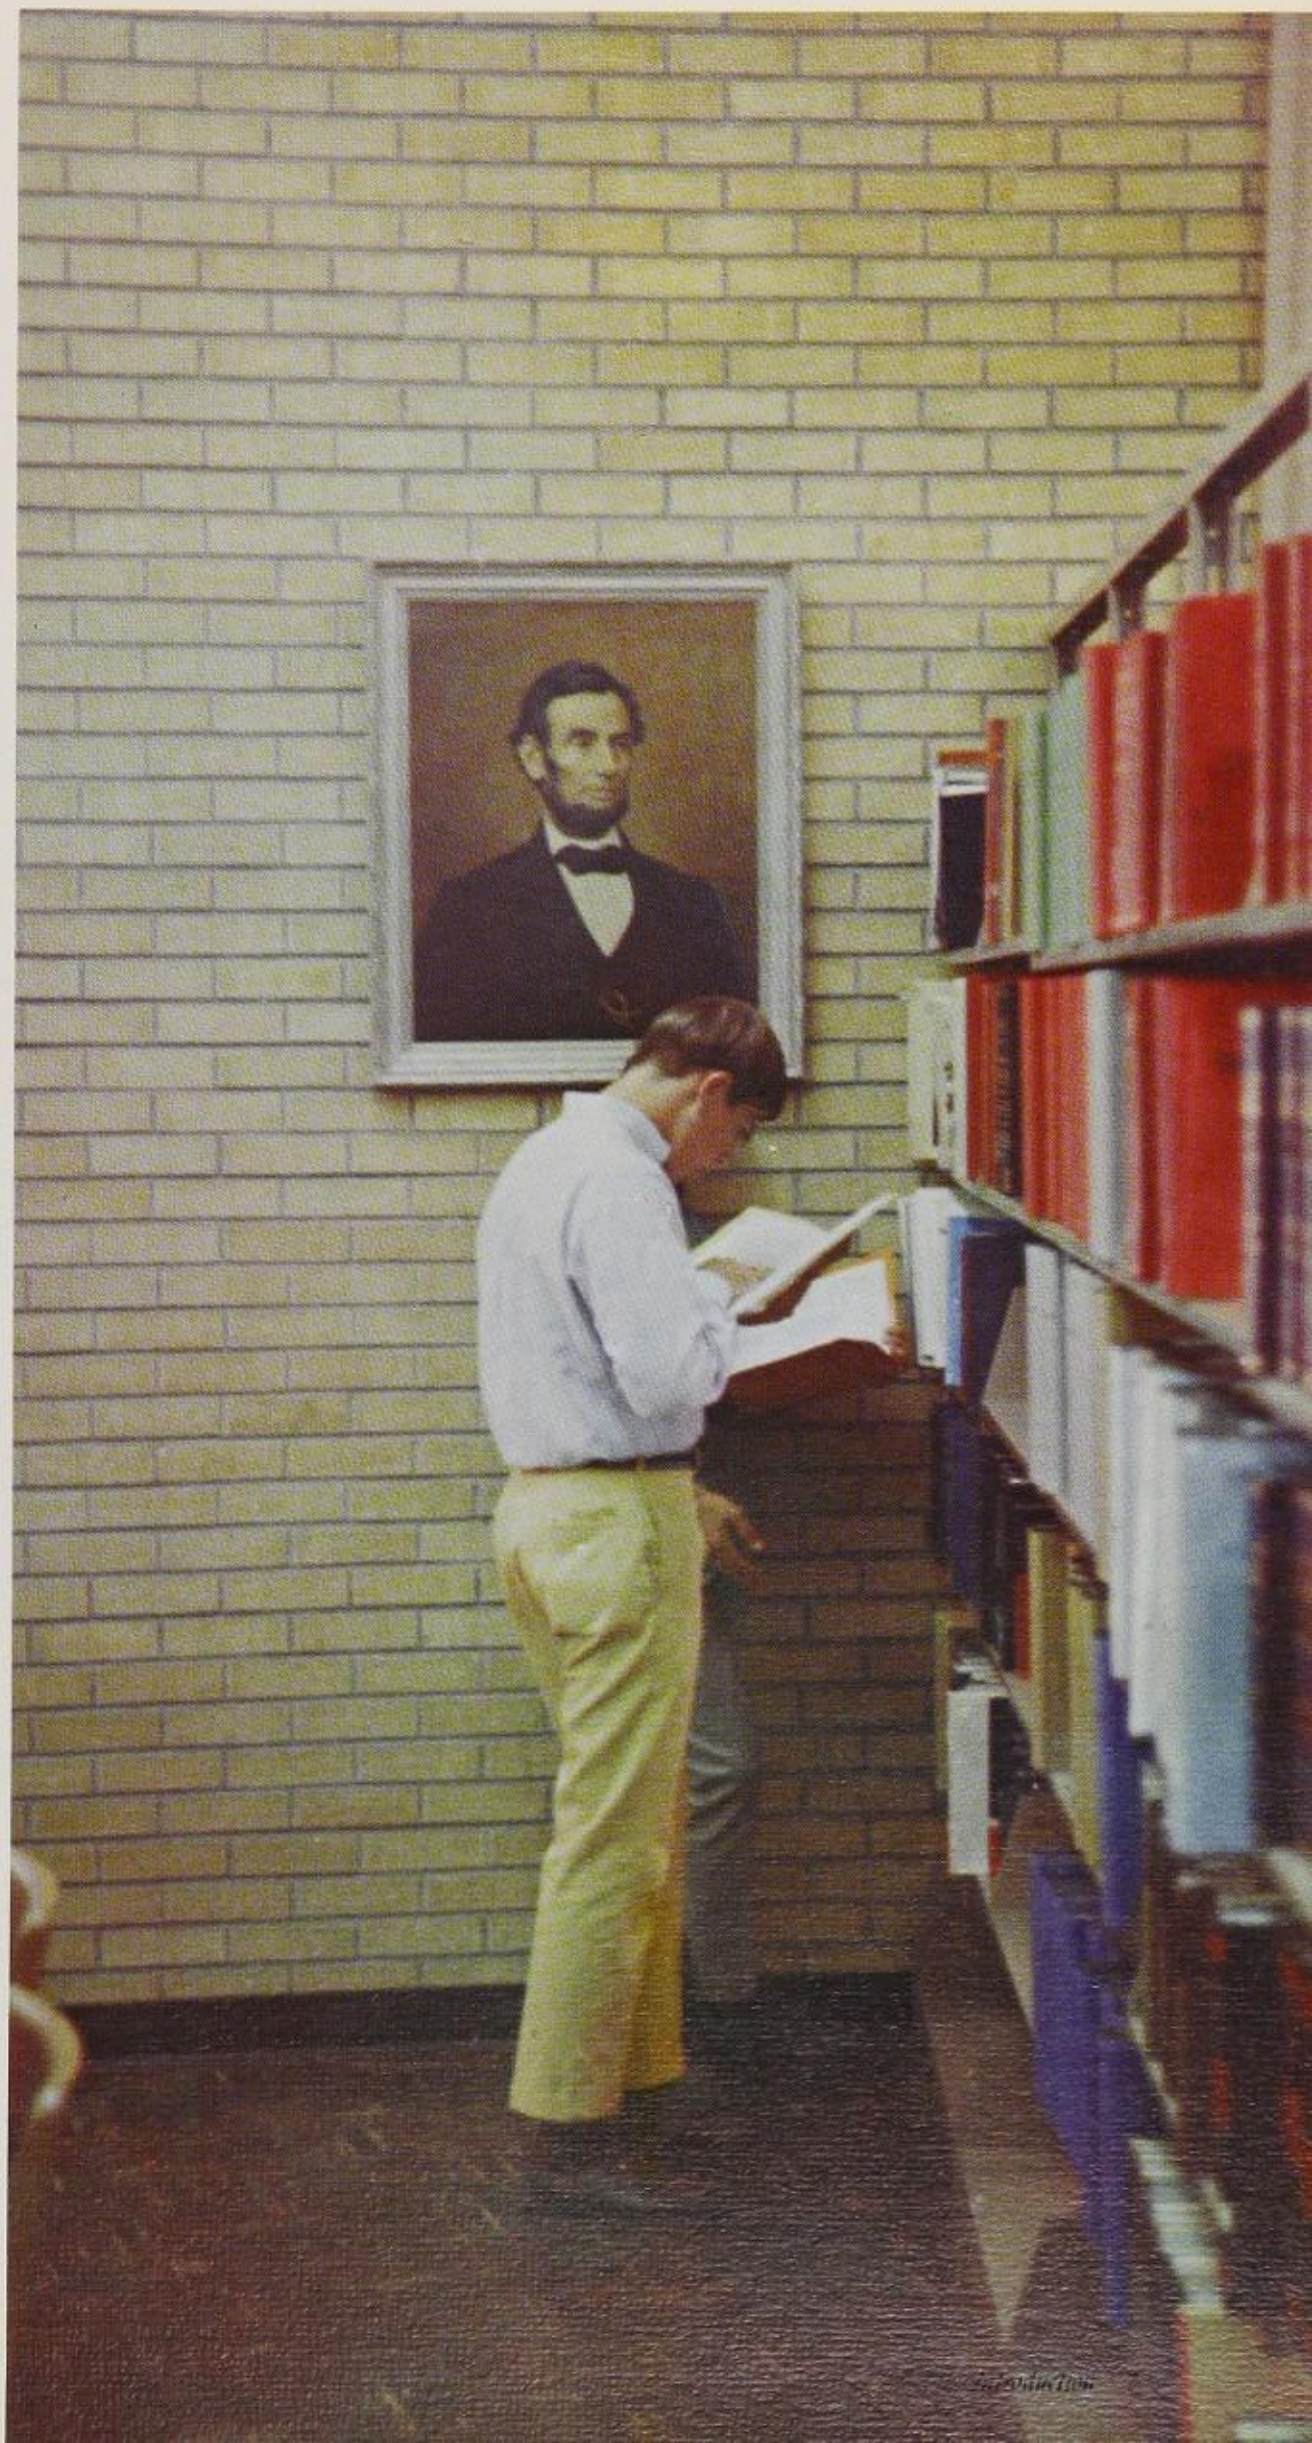
Laughter and smiles, enthusiasm, solitude and concentration, are all so much a part of youth. . . . These the expressions, are evident in our best friend greeting us at a dance, a familiar face in a crowd at a game, a classmate searching for a needed book. . . . Memories of Central will focus on people.

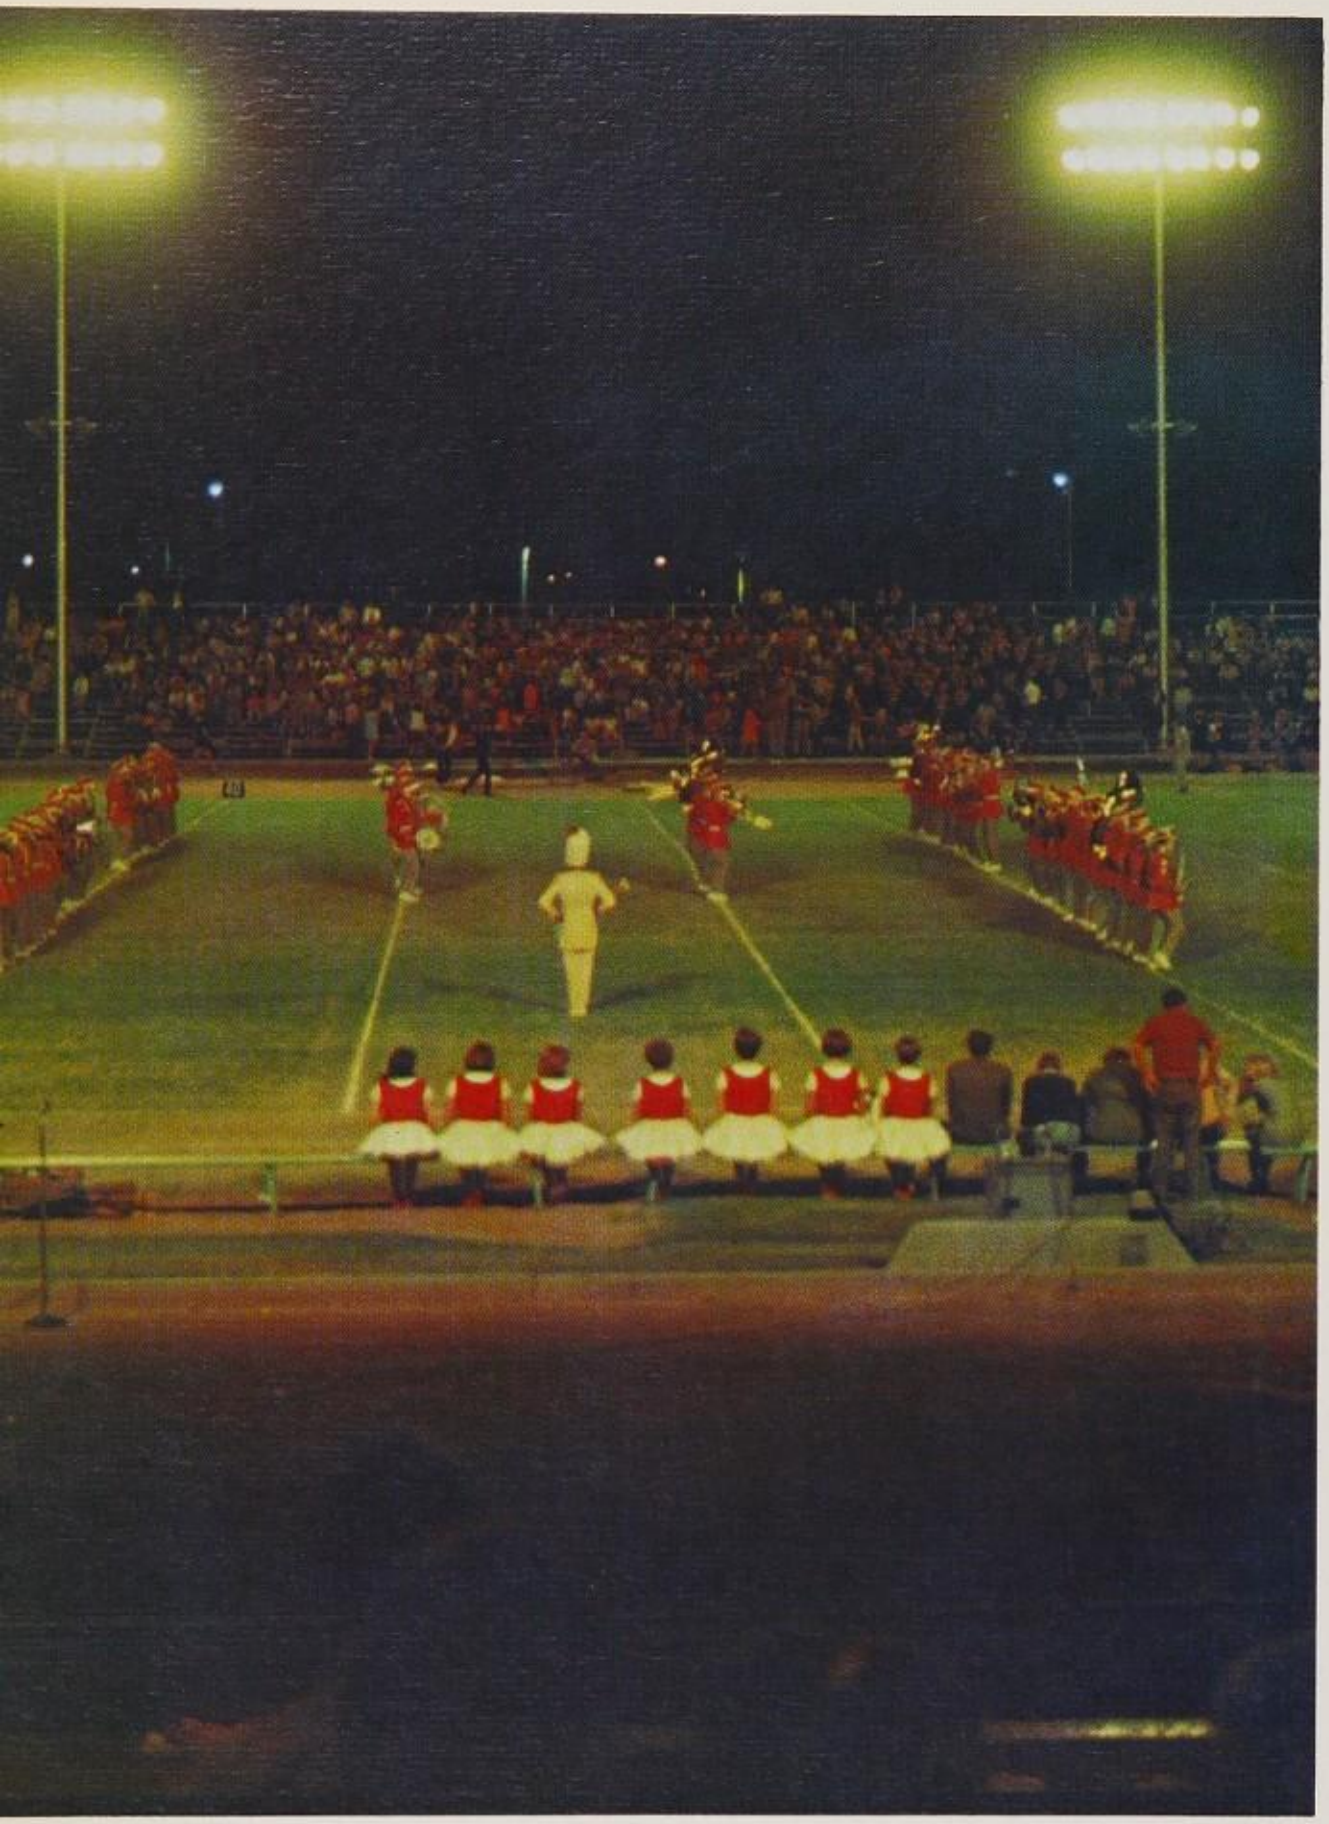
Gone Too Soon . . .



These experiences—the tense, the exciting, the totally free, are part of high school . . . A test culminates the frantic cramming the night before. Passing, dodging, finally the touchdown, creates the unyielding school spirit, inspired by the pom and cheer. Dancing, a form of expression for the modern generation, creates the special moment that will long be remembered. Various assemblies, breaking up the daily routine add special spark to Central. The student lives each moment now, later it is a part of the memories.

But Not Forgotten . . .

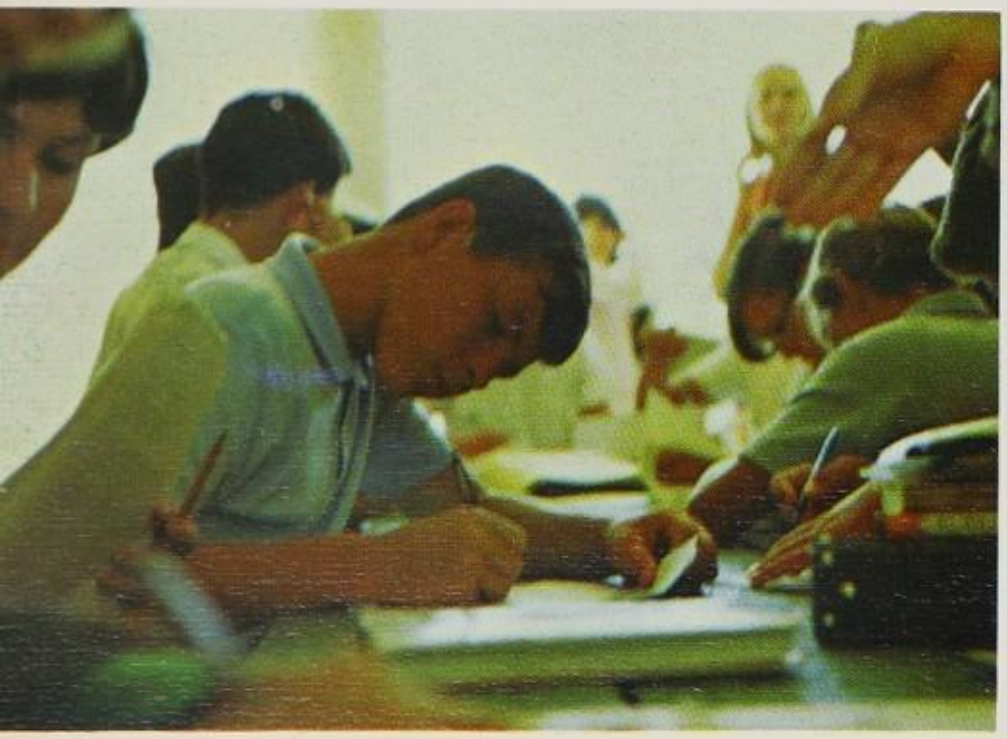
This We Remember . . .



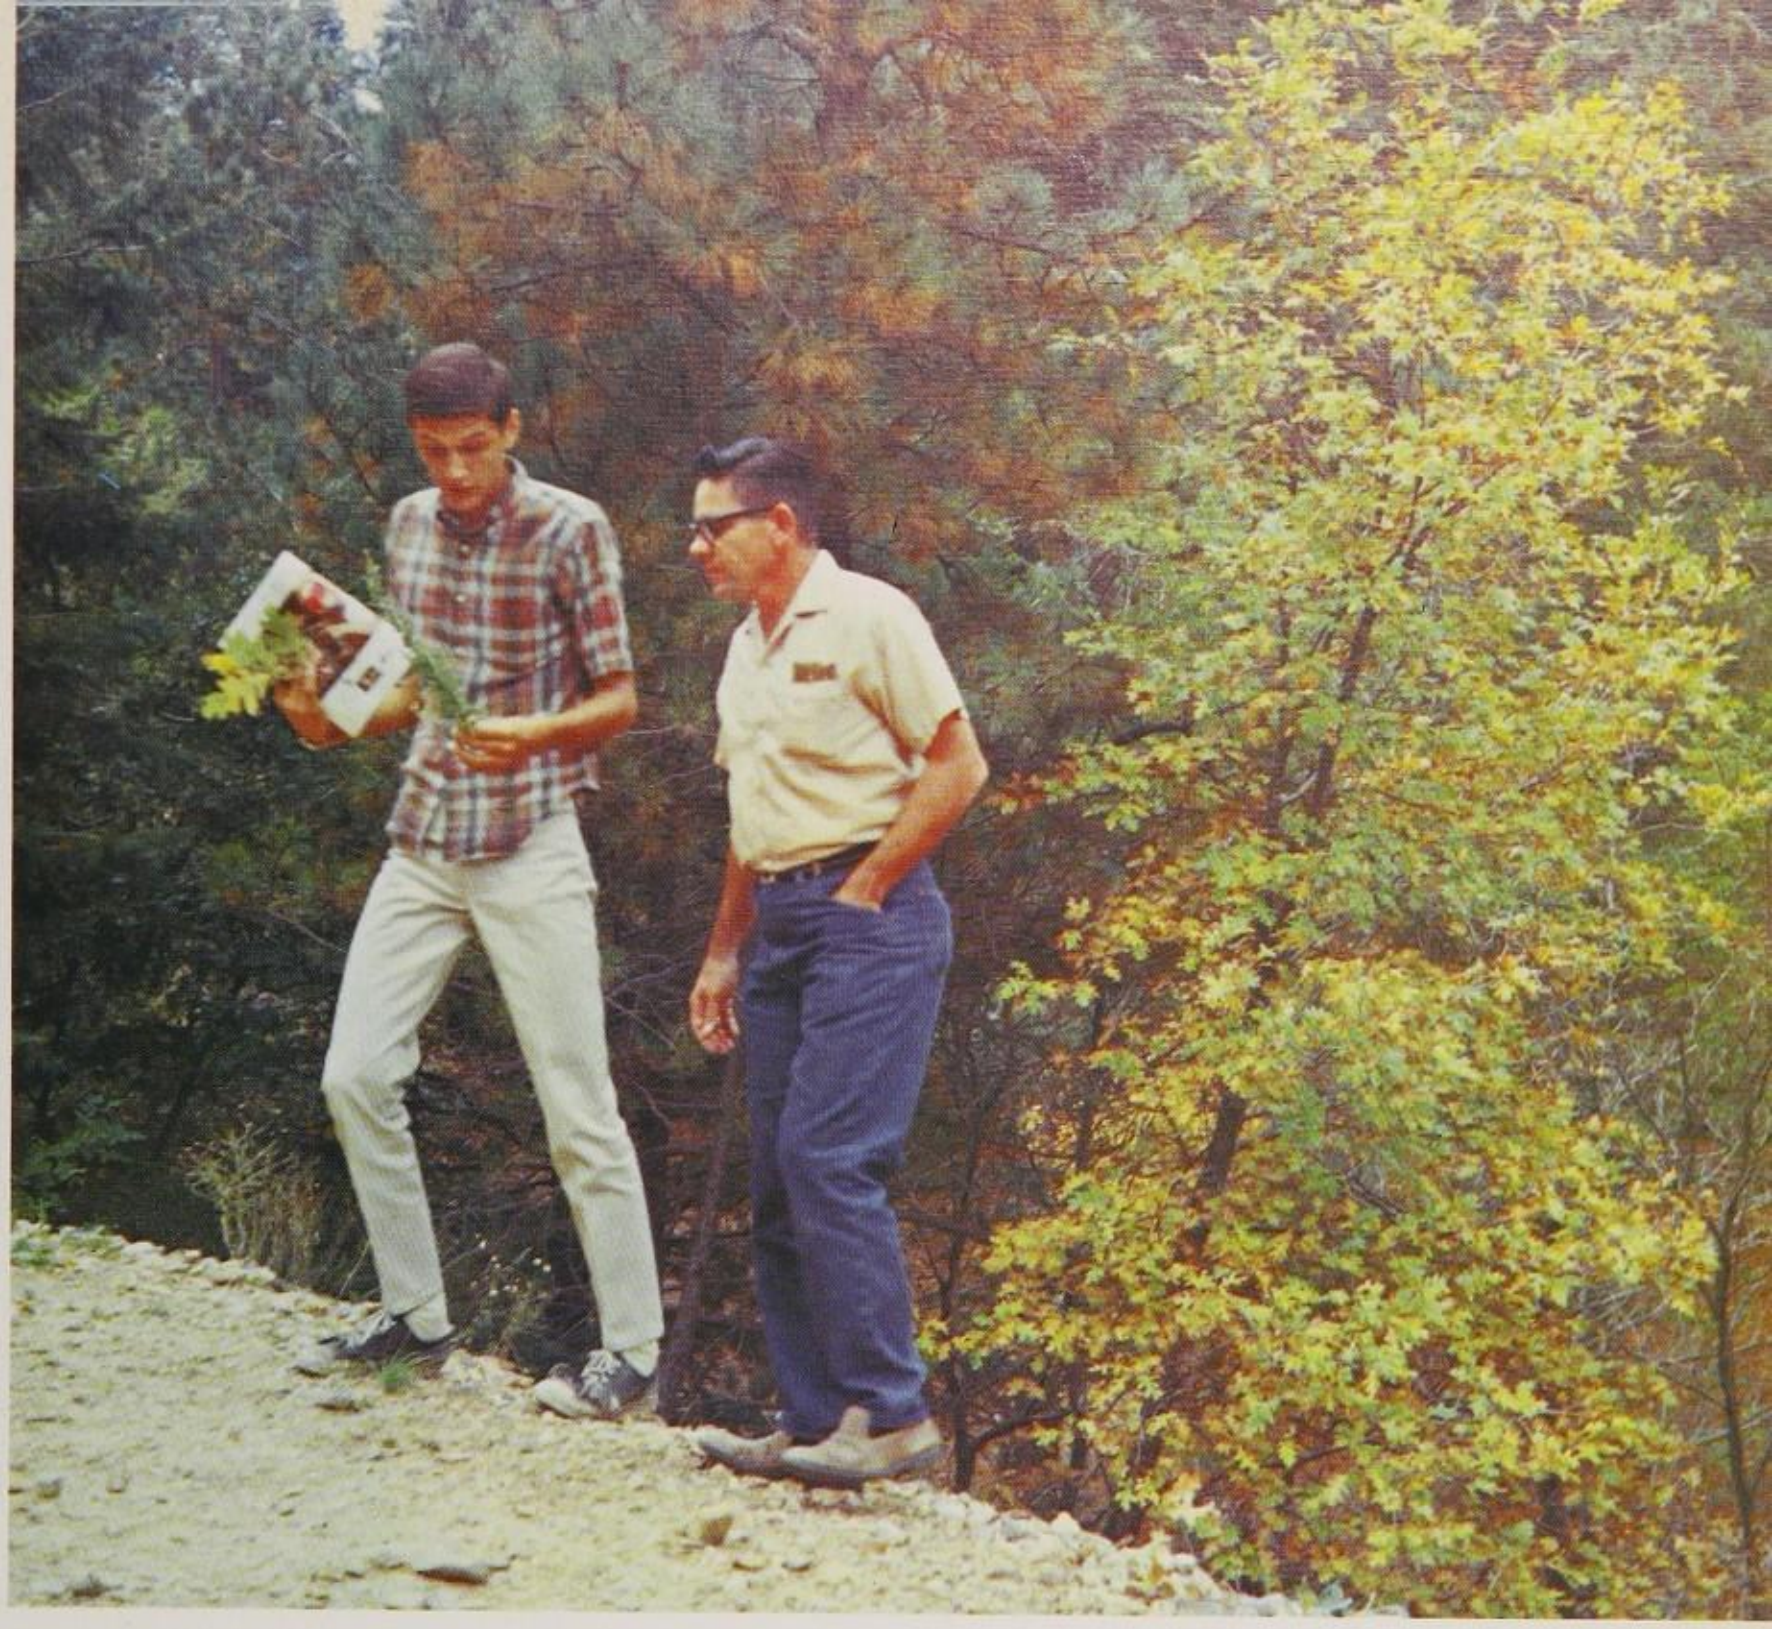
Time slips by so quickly . . . four years seemingly unimportant, yet in retrospect each moment is cherished. CENTRAL HIGH . . . recollections of the chill in the morning while watching flag raising, the stooping necessary to open that bottom locker, the special trip to the museum, and the school spirit . . . our Bobcat mascot, the fight song, and the band playing our Alma Mater.

"Voices echo Hail to Central as the years go by,
As we pass our hearts will praise thee,
Always CENTRAL HIGH."

STUDENT LIFE



Trips, Dance Yield Spirit



Memories of September and October will include field trips, our first dance, and the KRUX School Spirit Competition. Order of the Frog went to Mt. Lemon in Tucson; the Engineering Club visited the AMJ Corporation to see the car used on "The Man From Uncle" T. V. program. Several signing parties, and before and after school petition signing netted over one million signatures. Central placed second in the KRUX contest, close behind Washington High.

Activities Up, Away

September and October were filled with the activities common to the opening of school. Foreign exchange student, MARINA TRYPSIANI, of Greece joined us, Legio Decima held their club initiation, MR. JAMES MINOTTO, member of a Senate sub-committee, spoke to the social studies classes on Latin American policies and customs. School spirit was boosted by Key Club's Bobcat T shirt sale, and activities such as the Olympic pep assembly before the Camelback football game. Freshmen became part of the campus life by attending the games and campaigning for their senators and class officers actively.

The excitement of the Mardi Gras descended upon Central Nov. 10, for the Homecoming game against North High. The special events began with breakfast, French cafe style. Candidates for king and queen were introduced at the musical Homecoming Assembly, followed by the football players presenting mums to the pom and cheer girls. During halftime of the game the modern dancers performed, and balloons were released. Finally the candidates were escorted down the field, and ending the tense anticipation, the king and queen were announced. Crowned were king Mark Olson, and queen Susan Taylor. The attendants were driven around the field in '68 Camaros; the king and queen mounted the throne of Central's first Homecoming float amidst red roses and congratulations. The game itself proved a disappointment as Central was overcome 26-0. Afterward, there was a gala dance. The gym was decorated as the Mardi Gras, with streamers and balloons hanging from the ceiling, and confetti strewn on the floor. The band, Tunerville Trolley, played in a gazebo. Concluding the Homecoming celebration, colorful balloons were released in a cascade upon queen Susan and king Mark.

Mardi Gras Theme Accents Homecoming

November, filled with holiday spirit, proved to be an activity-laden month. As the time neared for seniors to choose their college, representatives were available for consultation. These interviews took place throughout the month. Then as Thanksgiving drew near, the Girls League Councils collected canned foods and clothes for the Salvation Army's needy families. On November 30, at a special assembly here, the Youth Orchestra performed. Student musicians from high schools in the valley qualified as members after auditioning and being accepted. Members from Central were Debbie Richards, Becky Hancock, Chris Anguis, and Tricia Farris. Also, November 30, the basketball season opened with the Intersquad game. Aimed at introducing players, promoting spirit, and pre-season practice, varsity was pitted against the junior varsity until the fourth quarter, when the varsity played against each other.

Outstanding Athletes Lauded; Earnest Draws Applause

Outstanding football players and cross country runners were awarded letters at the Fall Sports Banquet, Nov. 28. Tie tacks were given to second year lettermen; trophies were awarded to best offensive football player, Whitney Dunham and defensive player, Scott Gates. For corss country, Tim Peterson was deemed outstanding. An after-dinner speaker from ASU, entertainment by the Bobcat stage band, and gifts to the coaches completed the evening. In addition to November's Sports Banquet, Masque and Gavel presented "The Importance of Being Earnest," Nov. 8 through 28. The play hilariously dealt with the mistaken identities of two supposed Earnests, Jack and Algernon, and their love problems.

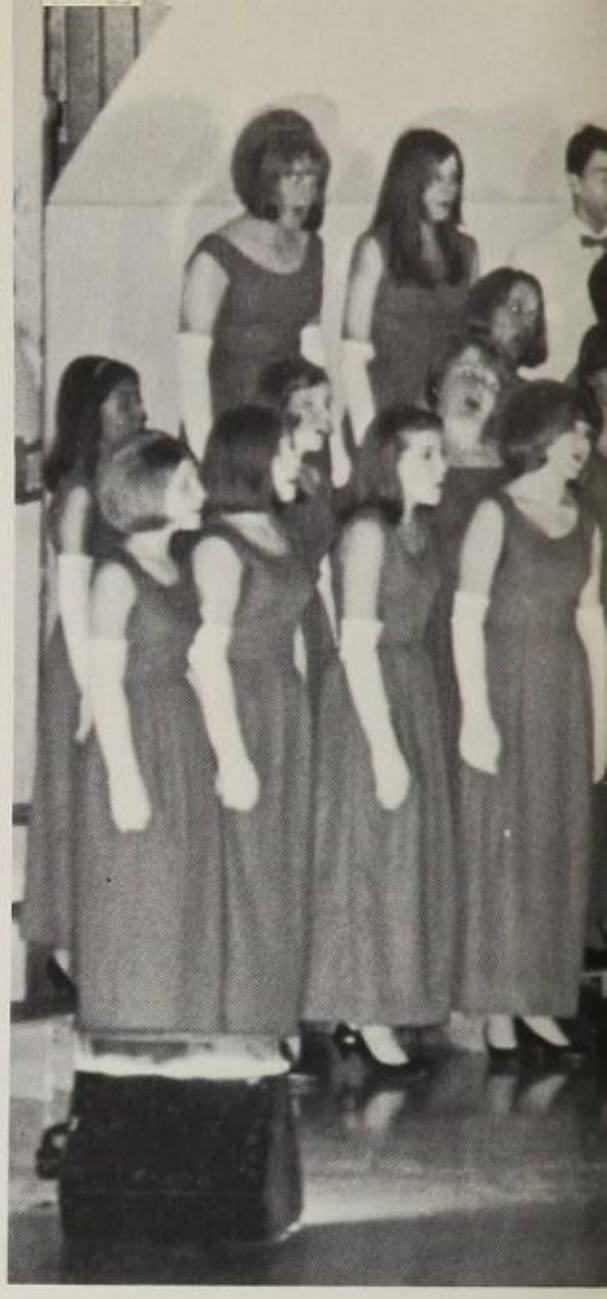
Festive Campus Marks December



Halls decked with Christmas and Chanukah posters, candy cane selling by lettermen's club, and music between classes, evidenced Central's holiday joy in December. Reviving the Christmas dance not held last year, Girls League and Boys Alliance presented "Christmas Without a Claus" semi-formal on December 16. Before vacation, the music and dance departments gave the traditional Christmas assembly. Modern dancers performed to the music of the various choirs. Giving of oneself is also a part of the season; Kai-Kaina Tri-Hi-Y gave a party for migrant children. Senate again sponsored a food and clothing drive for needy families, with students depositing food under the Christmas tree in the cafeteria. Admission to the game against Carl Hayden was cans of food or articles of clothing.

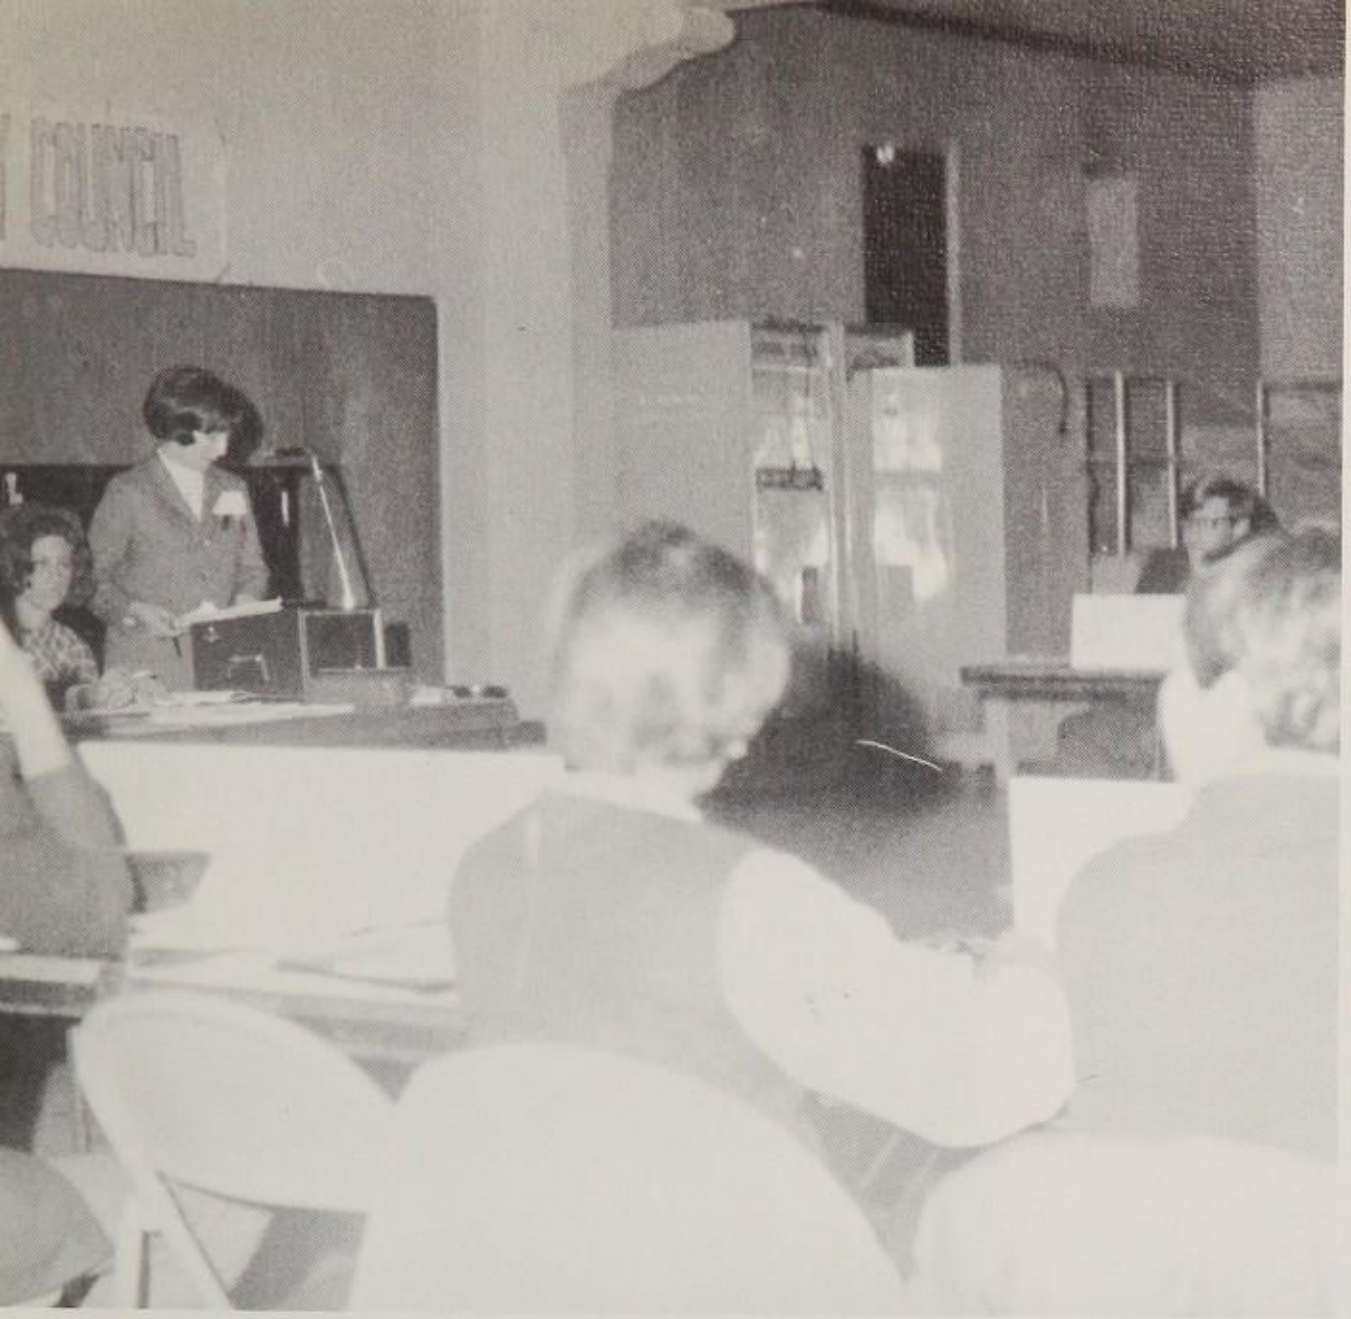
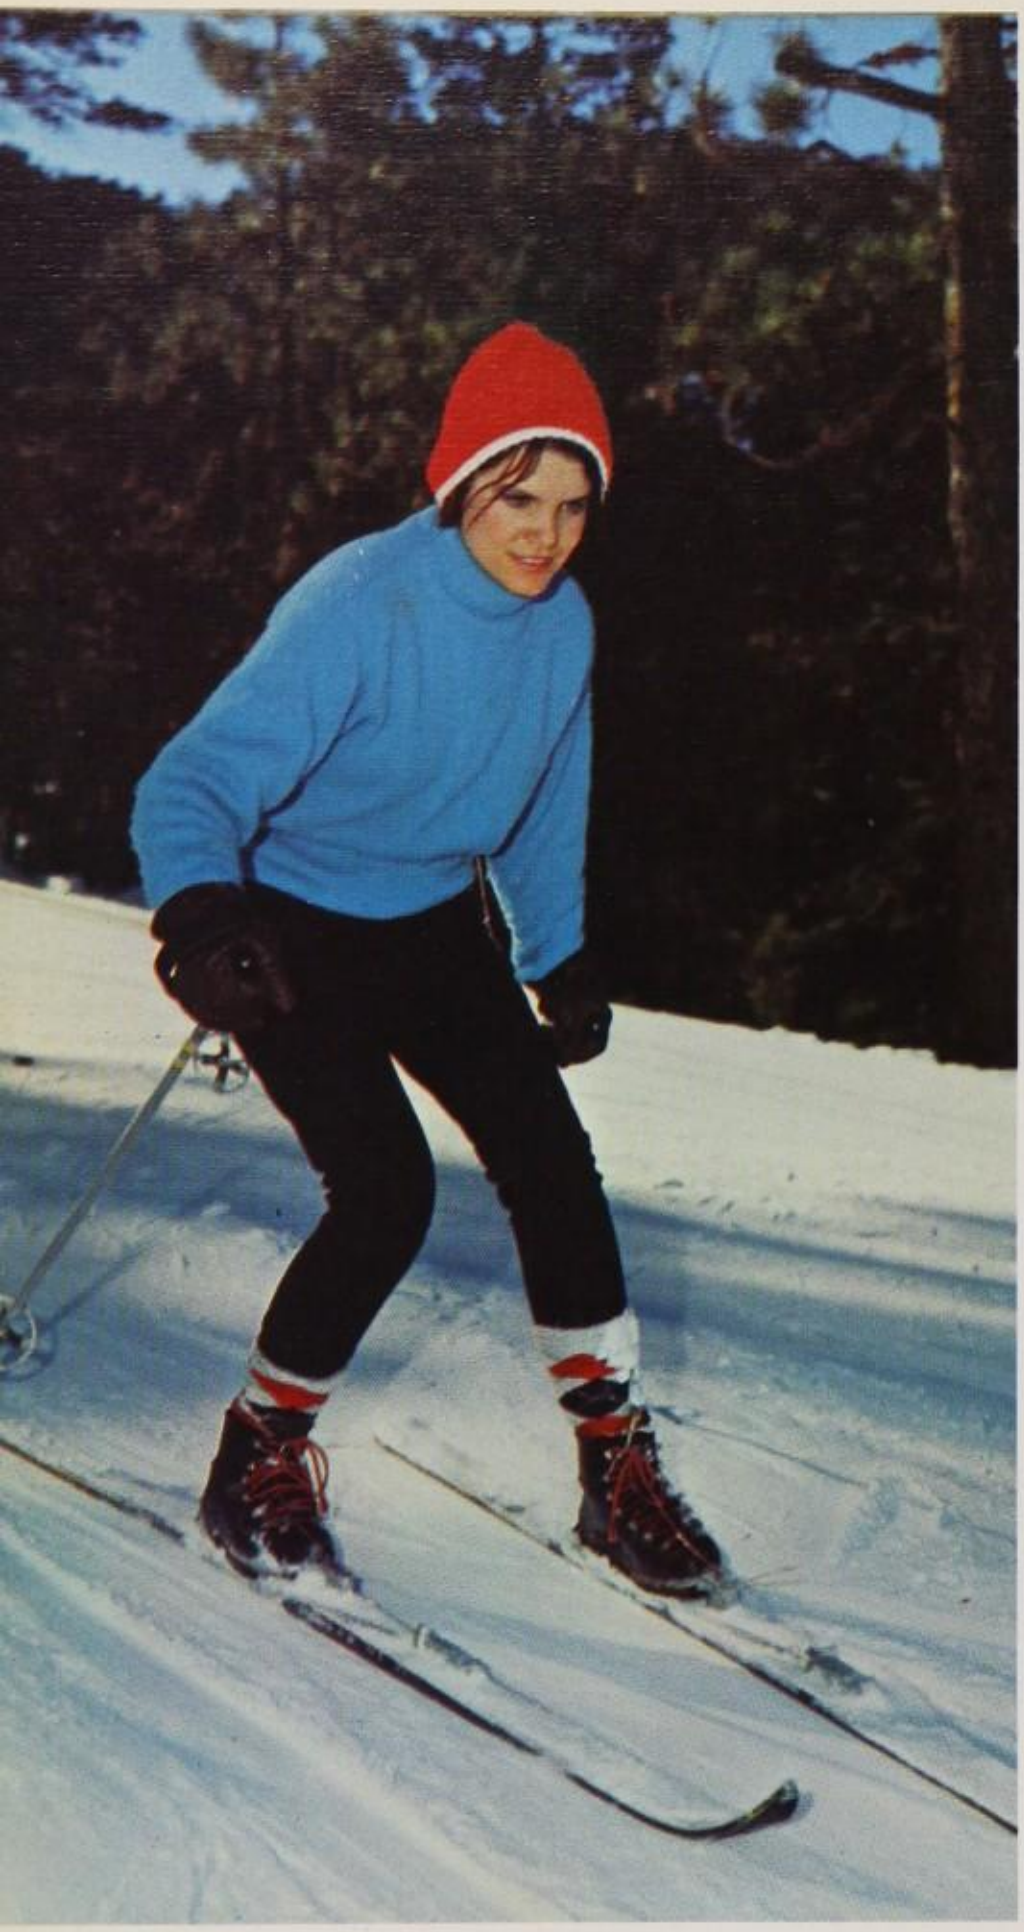
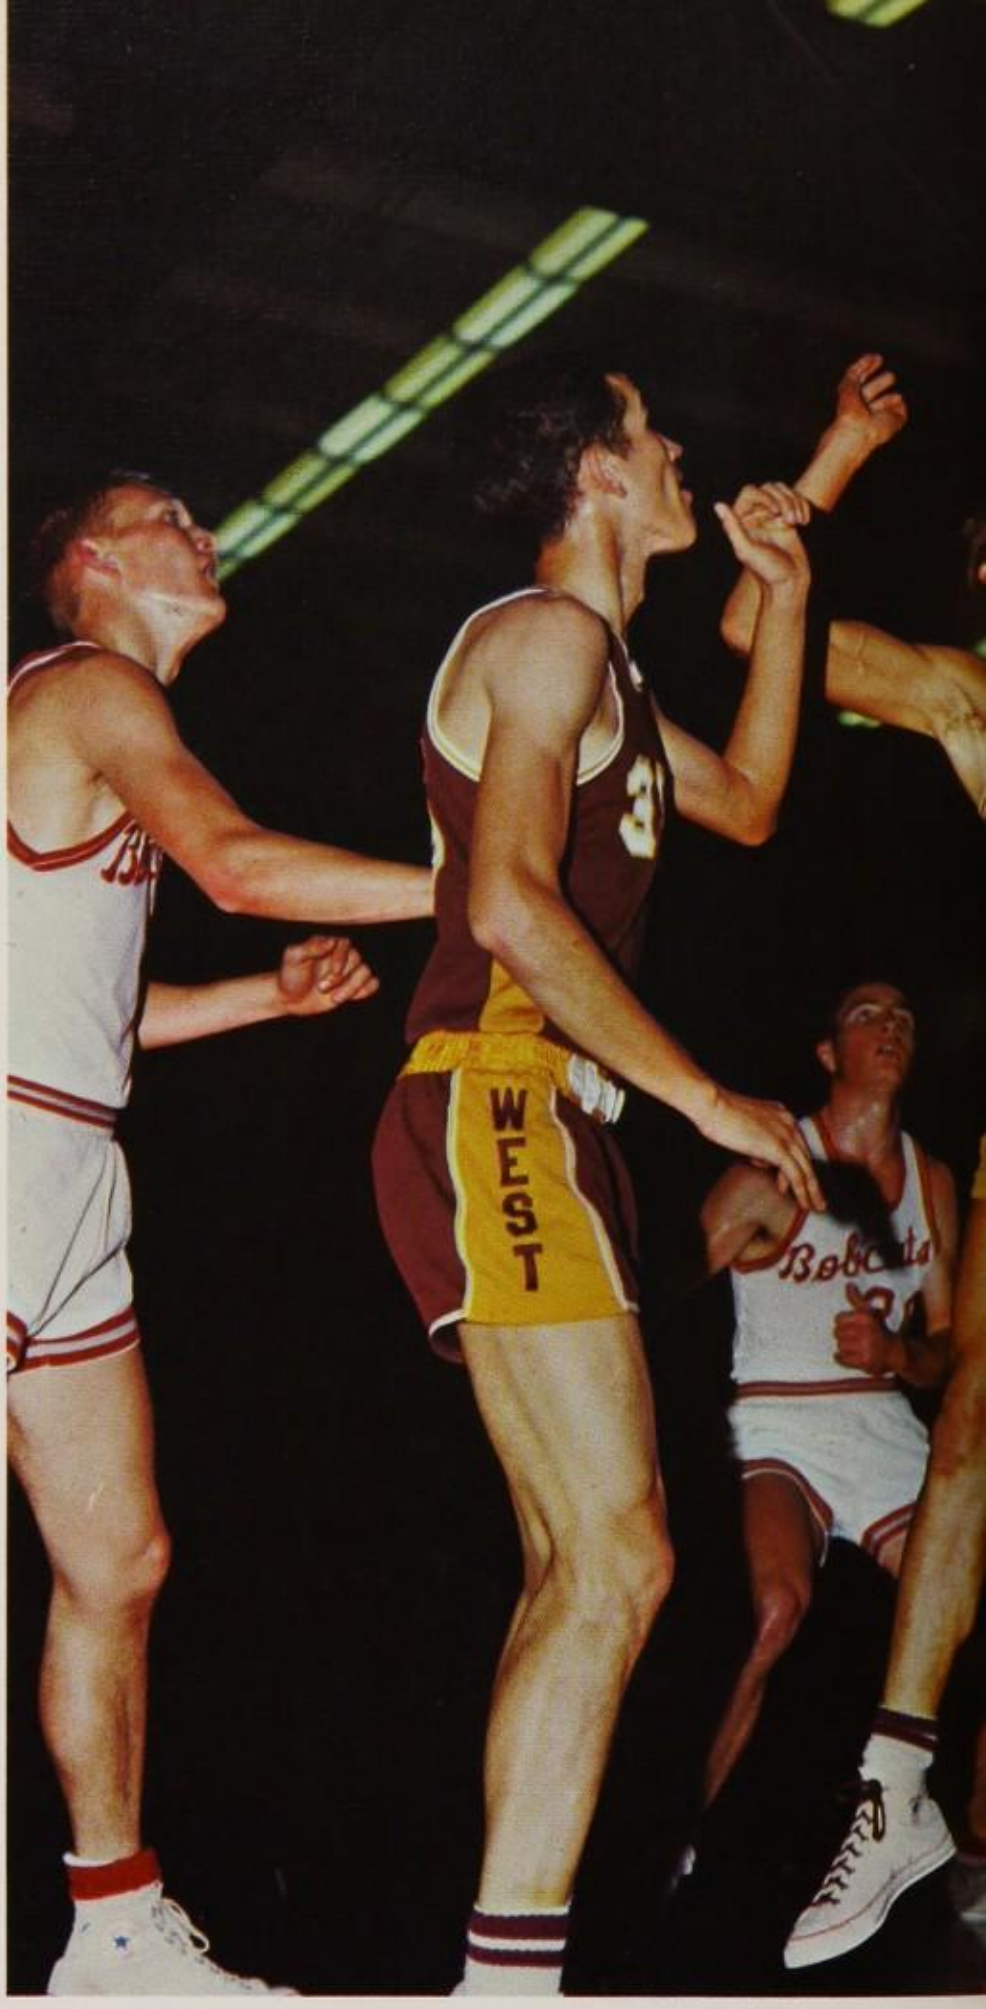
Model U.N. Shows CJA Spirit



Preceding basketball season, the athletic department presented an assembly to introduce players and encourage attendance at games. This spirit was boosted by Spirit Incorporated pep club who sold CIA buttons. (Central in action!) Another kind of spirit, that of brotherhood and international peace was experienced by fourteen Central students. Bobcats representing Russia, Dahomey, Colombia, and Somalia proved vital at the Model UN at the University of Arizona December 8-9. The delegation determined the fate of several important resolutions, including peace plans for the Middle East.





Semester Tests Lightened by January's Sports

In January, active students participated in winter sports, took semester exams, and finished their class projects. The first event of the month came January 12, as Central's basketball team played West. Bobcats excitedly watched their team take an early lead, fall back, then finally wallop West 51–45. Early next morning, both experienced and novice skiers enjoyed Ski Club's trip to Williams. While the experienced skied, newcomers took lessons. Others played in the snow, rode the lift, and lounged. On January 26, a wrestling match against Camelback netted a loss 21–23. Also in this month, Home Economics' Advanced Clothing class, finishing new outfits, sponsored a tea and fashion show to display the outfits.

Laura Finds Glass World Gazette Rates Play 'Tops'

Tennessee Williams' "Glass Menagerie," ran for six performances beginning February 14. The story centers around the mother, Amanda, her son, Tom, and daughter, Laura. Amanda was embittered because her childhood plans had failed. Laura, crippled, couldn't live up to the glamour figure her mother wanted her to be. She slowly withdrew into her own dream world of tiny glass animals, her 'glass menagerie.' Tom wanted to escape from his mother's rule, to seek adventure and write poetry. Jim, a friend of Tom's was brought home to meet Laura. When she grew to love him, she discovered he was engaged. In addition to the excellent acting, behind-the-walls lighting gave the scenery the effect of a tenement. The Phoenix Gazette called the play "a first rate production." In fact, it was taken to East High for a special production there as part of the new exchange between drama departments.

February brought a spurt of activities. AJS students from the high schools spoke and entertained at an assembly February 8. The 11th there was a Father-Daughter banquet with speaker Mayor Milton Graham. The next day there was a fashion show with girls modeling Simplicity patterned clothes. Washington's birthday was celebrated by a patriotic assembly February 22. Assemblies committee members were the participants. Interest in wrestling matches and basketball games was boosted by the CATS scorekeepers and a pep rally, sixth hour, the 23rd.

Teachers Reign Supreme at Spring Basketball Game

March was a time for new beginnings and remembrances of the past. We recalled a former student, Joanna Leonard. Her close friends honored her through a memorial service March 1; a seascape painting dedicated to her memory was presented to the school by her family. Athletes were again honored at the winter sports banquet, March 5, featuring basketball and wrestling accomplishments. The basketball team went to the Divisional playoffs; Jack Beck took state in wrestling. Basketball season wound up with the Faculty-student game on March 8; teachers won.

Drama Department Plans Musical; Voting Machines Used by Bobcat Elections

Spring is also the time for student body and class officer elections. On March 7, Bobcats went to the polls to elect student body officers. Voting polls were manned by elections committee members all day so every student would have a chance to vote. New to Central this year, students were excused from their social studies classes to vote. Voting machines rented from the county added special interest and democratic flavor to the election. Sixty-eight per cent of the student body voted. Also in March, the drama department began work on the year's only musical, "Stop the World, I want to get off;" the German club held a special celebration known as 'Fasching,' to honor a German holiday.

Mavericks and dudes alike donned their western duds for Maverick Day March 14. The day's 'hoots and hollers' began with the western breakfast; early risers who had ridden tandem bikes to school ate chow and listened to a band. Lunch festivities drew crowds as Bobcats visited the saloon, the Golden Nugget. Its owner, Preston Karansky m.c.'d the floor show where a barbershop quartet sang, chorus girls danced the can can, and an entertainer played honky-tonk piano and did a skit. Between the floor show and contests, the westerners enjoyed an old-time ice cream parlor. The contests began with cake-eating; this was followed by bubblegum-blowing. The winner of the beard growing contest and the best dressed teacher and student were announced. Lunch ended with the senior girls challenging each other in a tandem marathon. Maverick Day activities were organized by Sherry Aron and her traditions committee.

Cheer Initiates Assembly Skit; Pom Performs Cancan Dance

Practicing daily in class and after school gave Central's Pom and Cheer lines impressive perfection. Miss Colleen Cook was responsible for their performance at games and assemblies. The cheer line's efforts to build pep and spirit continued throughout football and basketball seasons. Although the pom line performed only at home games, their efforts gave Central students a sense of pride. The cheer and pom lines originated and performed many skits in various assemblies. The cheer line and class made up skits showing the actions of our football, basketball, and wrestling teams for the assembly at the beginning of each season. The pom line performed a cancan at both lunch hours during rodeo day. The pom and cheer lines and classes served as hostesses at the Spring and Fall Sports banquets.

Disputes and flare-ups over the calls of officials occur in all sports, but the referee's decisions are final. Players must learn to accept unfavorable calls gracefully and display good sportsmanship. In the three pictures to the left, an unhappy Whitney Dunham, protesting a penalty during the Pueblo game, listens impatiently to line coach Endres.

Outplaying their opponents in the final moments of the game, Central defeated East 26-20, and finished their season with a victory. Central scored early in the first quarter, when Steve Cohen leaped one yard into East's end-zone. When the conversion attempt failed, the score became 6-0, favor of Central. During the second quarter, Cohen scored again on a 1-yard run, and the extra point attempt made the score 13-0, favor of Central. But before the quarter was over, East had scored twice with two successful conversions, making the score 13-14, favor of East, at the end of the first half. During the third quarter, East scored a third time, lifting their lead to 7 points. In the fourth quarter, Central's momentum gathered, pushing them to victory, as the Bobcats scored twice more. Scott Burns, on a quarterback keeper play, ran from 10 yards out to bring the score to 20-20. Later, the Bobcat defensive unit held East on their own 10-yard line, and forced them to fumble. Tim Livesay recovered the ball, ran it into East's end-zone, making the final score 26-20, favor of Central. During the game, Central fumbled once, but managed to recover the ball. East fumbled four times, and lost the game due to their clumsiness, for Central recovered three of the loose balls, turning one into a touchdown. Cited by the coaches for outstanding defensive effort at East was Allen Slipher, cornerback.

Good Times Ahead . . . J. V. 's Compile Best Record

Consistently winning and suffering few losses or ties, the Central J.V. football team compiled a 6 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie seasonal record, the best of any Central grid team. Under the guidance of coaches Dave Silcox and John Eulberg, the J.V. squad exhibited their enthusiasm and team spirit by starting the season with a 5 game winning streak. Noted for outstanding effort were Terry Major, offensive and defensive tackle, and Sam Moulton, halfback.

Frosh A's Held League Champs Too-O Tie

A desire to win and the ability to use it—these were two outstanding characteristics of the Freshman "A" football team. Comprised of freshman boys weighing over 125 pounds, the team ended the season with a 4 wins, 4 losses, and 1 tie record. The tie came in the last game of the year, when the Central A's held the freshmen of East High, the league champions, to a 0-0 standoff. Noted by coaches John Murray and Jack Wales for outstanding extra effort were Tom Erith and Steve Mote.

Needing more time to unify their efforts, the Freshman "B" football team got off to a slow start. Gaining confidence and better team effort as the season progressed, the squad finished the year with a 3 wins, 5 losses, and 1 tie record. While the defensive unit was initially stronger than the offense, the offense improved rapidly, and obtained the ability to score. Noted by coach Bill Gimbal for extra-effort during the games and practices were Kevin Mackin and Tim Carrillo.

Coached by Ken Troutt, lacking height but not spirit or effort, Central's varsity basketball squad finished the '67-'68 season with a 12 win 7 loss record, bettering last year's season by 8 wins. Using a zone defense and seldom employing man to man tactics, the Bobcat's defensive game often protected and maintained small advantages, enabling Central to win a large number of close contests. The offensive game of the varsity squad was not as encouraging, for both shooting and ballhandling were of an inconsistent quality. In many of the games that were lost, the Bobcats lead during the first quarter or half, then lagged behind to suffer defeat as our players lost their aim. Strong points for the team were rebounding and defense. Often playing against much taller teams, the Bobcats managed to overcome this disadvantage and retain control of the ball. Citied by coach Troutt as the most valuable players were seniors John Dehmer and Don Howard. Howard was also high scorer of the team.

Under the guidance of coach Phil Kemp, Central's J.V. basketball team posted an outstanding season record for the second year in a row, finishing with 14 wins and 2 losses. Starting slowly, then gathering confidence and poise, the J.V.'s began running their opponents to ruin by hard pressure, hard hustle, and accurate shooting. Employing zone and half-court trap tactics, Central's J.V.'s kept the opposition from shooting often. The only weakness of the Central J.V. squad was height. Lacking tall players, our J.V.'s had to fight hard for any rebounds that came their way. Coach Kemp was unable to pick any outstanding player, for team-work was far more important to the J.V. players than individual recognition.

Central Frosh Grays—A Hard-Hustling Team

A strong running team, the Frosh Gray basketball squad, under the direction of coach South, completed their season with a 6 win 6 loss record. Composed of many outstanding individual players, the Gray team worked well as a unit, using individual talent to utmost advantage. Keeping pressure on their opponents, the Grays worked a man to man defense and full court press. Possessing good endurance, the Frosh were able to set the game pace, then outrun, outlast, and outshoot the opposition. With a capacity for speed and the ability to handle the ball well, Central's Grays made successful use of a fast break. The team began the season slowly, losing their first game, then began to win. Cited by coach South as outstanding were Bill Akins, Tom Kolesar, Rick Curran, and Bruce Ivor.

This was the third winning season in 3 years for the Frosh Reds. Starting slowly, the Reds gained poise and polish as the season progressed. With this build-up of momentum, the squad built up their win record and a great sense of team pride. Like the Frosh Grays, the Reds were a strong running team, able to outmaneuver, outrun, and outshoot their opponents. Singled out by the coach as outstanding were* Jack August and Mike McFaul.

When the season finally began, the team's luck took a change for the better and by presstime, Central's Bobcats had established a 3 win 2 loss record. The opening game, played against Phoenix Union, was a 5-2 victory for Central. Playing Alhambra next, Central went down to a 3-2 defeat. The season's third game, played against Brophy, resulted in a 3-0 Bobcat win, followed by a 3-2 win over Rincon. Green, brash, ready to accept any challenge placed before them, the 1967-68 varsity wrestling team, half its members inexperienced prior to this year, finished the season with a 2 win 8 loss record. Coming within minutes of redeeming their defeats, the team was beaten 4 times by 2 or less points; the equivalent of 1 or 2 minutes riding time. Under the direction of coach George Endres, *the Bobcats concentrated on gaining speed, endurance, and strength, hoping to outlast and pin their opponents in the third period. Extremely win-conscious, Central's varsity grapplers compiled outstanding individual records. On the individual level, about one-half of all matches won by our J.V. grapplers ended with the Central wrestler pinning his opponent. Cited by coach Jack Maddux as the outstanding members of the J.V. team were Mike Hogan, wrestling at 180 lbs., and Benny Wick, wrestling at 95 lbs. During the season, Hogan placed his opponents in a predicament 17 times. Wick had just 3 points scored on him, wrestling 9 matches in which he held his opponent scoreless.

Long practice hours, the stress of competition, a desire to win—all affect a golfer's game. Practicing on the 9 hole course of Encanto Park, their home course, the 5-man Varsity golf team spent long hours after school perfecting skill, gaining confidence. Chosen for having consistently low scores, the golfers usually had scores of 39 on a par 35 course. The team had a 10 match season.

Gymnastics is strength and coordination, agility and daring blended into a kind of visual music, a sequence of precise movement and perfect tempo that form a smooth athletic expression. Practicing after school on the trampoline, highbar, parallel bars, sidehorse, rings, and tumbling events, the gymnastics team, under the direction of coach Darrel Leitsch, works to achieve the perfection necessary to win meets. Practicing longer than any other team, the gymnasts start working on their events in January, and continue until the end of school. Commended for his all-around contribution to the team effort was Scott Wood.

Marina Trypsiani, Central's foreign exchange student from Greece, was not surprised with what she found Americans to be when she came to the United States; from movies and tourists she has gained some ideas. She found Americans very friendly and said that teen-agers here could talk more freely with their parents than in Greece. In Greece, she said, there are many rock groups, but there are two other kinds of music which are also very popular: songs of people and "light" songs. Marina played the guitar and enjoyed the "light" songs best. Never before travelling from Greece, Marina said she was very anxious to see all of the United States as well as other countries. Her American sister, Marcy Kahn, spent last summer in Japan, through AFS. She was very grateful to AFS for helping her to learn about two countries other than her own.

National Merit Finalists—120

Parnassus Students Earn 1.5 Recognition; Merit Finalists Win

The National Merit Finalists represented the best students in the United States; Central had five. To qualify, Junior students took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test and based on the score received on this test, they were chosen as Finalists, Semi-finalists, or commended students. The finalists had a chance at winning a National Merit Scholarship for their performance on the test. Parnassus was the only honor society on campus composed of both upper and lower classmen. Students who maintain a 1.5 average are eligible for the group. Improving student-faculty relations was one of the many essential functions of the Faculty-Student Advisory Committee, in which both students and faculty members participated.

The National Honor Society was the foremost of the Scholastic Honor Societies at Central. Students were chosen from the top ten per cent of the Junior Class and from the top fifteen per cent of the Senior Class. After being nominated by a faculty member, a student is eligible for the group. The National Honor Society, sponsored by Mr. Hatch, initiated a tutor program for underprivileged students as a free service of the organization.

The top two and five per cent of the senior class represented those students who had excelled in academics. The competition for recognition was very stiff, and acceptance was of great benefit in college application.

Band Goes to Tucson & Tempe, Performs for Grade Schools

The Concert Band provided music for football games and pep assemblies. Advanced members performed as soloists during the concert season, and four were chosen for All State Band. The group gave presentations at grade schools in the district, and traveled to both the U. of A. and A.S.U. to participate in programs. Selections included compositions by Wagner and Bernstein.

The Stage Band, a small group of select members, plus a pianist and a vocalist, entertained at assemblies, basketball games, dances, and P.T.A. programs. The majorettes twirled their batons during half times at the football games to generate team spirit and build enthusiasm. The junior varsity band prepares younger students for more difficult work in the Concert Band.

The group was divided into eight teams which competed against each other. High scores were tallied for both single games and series, and trophies were presented to the winners at an end-of-year party at the Lanes.

Skiers Make Three Trips to Snow

The Skiing Club spent an active season. Novice members received special instruction, while more advanced participants got helpful pointers on how to emprove their form and increase their speed. Global Communications Promote International Language Study

With the advent of faster means of transportation and communication, few parts of the world are out of reach for the modern tourist. Stemming from this is the popularity for learning a foreign language. Central offers three such modern languages, French, Spanish, and German, along with the defunct Latin. For the student learning a foreign language at Central long hours of studying grammar and vocabulary are necessary, with the end product of understanding at least another man's language, and often his ideas.

Art Classes Expand to Meet Demands for Expression

With the establishment of a Phoenix Union High School system wide band, the members of the Bobcat band were given another opportunity to demonstrate their excellence in this field. Stressing such excellence in expression, both the music and art departments at Central thus provide an outlet for any talent and creativity a student might possess. The number of art classes offered increased markedly in the 1967-1968 school year, demonstrating increased popularity for the field of fine arts.

Social Studies Department Employs Audio-Visual Aids to Improve Subject Presentation

Oral presentation and the use of audio-visual aids such as the overhead projectors are an integral part of the learning process as practiced in the social studies department. Frequent lectures by teachers, oral reports, class discussions, and even debates are characteristic in the presentation of material. The department recently obtained an expensive tape recorder and microphone to record such classroom procedure, for reference at a later date. The department has also placed an overhead projector in every room, and colorful overlays of military campaigns or geographic positions are now in daily use as a physical aid to understanding.

Science Department Designs Program for Accelerated Students

The 1967-1968 school year saw the Science Department expand to include a course of Biology 3-4 AP. Taught by Mr. Humphreys, the course maintains as a required part of the curriculum that the student go on several field trips during the year. We Recall the Memories . . .

The yesterdays in life should never be forgotten, for each moment has in some way changed our lives. These, the memories, 'This we remember' of 1967-'68, the campus, the people, the events—Central High School.

We have captured this year's memories through the pages of the '68 Centralian . . . but without the help of these people, the task would have been impossible:
the adminstration: Mr. Anderson, Dr. Milton Jones, Mr. Hank Jones, Mr. Martin, and Mrs. Schmidt, the faculty: club and group sponsors, and Mr. Nelson,
the janitorial staff: especially Roy Cooper,
our dedicated yearbook staff, and Mr. Mullen, our advisor . . . without his knowledge and patience, our book and year would have been much less a reality.

To those students whose memory we carry with us, to those who will continue at Central, and to those students going on to fulfill their goals and aspirations . . . we dedicate the 1968 CENTRALIAN.
